DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d).

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The Information Disclosure Statement (IDS) submitted on August 2nd, 2006 is acknowledged. The IDS meets the requirements of 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98. Therefore, the references therein have been considered.

Specification

3. The specification is objected to because it is replete with grammatical which renders parts of the disclosure confusing. Examples of some unclear, inexact or verbose terms used in the specification are: "drive a staple blanks, "in such manner," and "in which surface." Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eriksson (5,516,025).

Eriksson discloses the same invention including a base part and a stapling unit, a magazine 10, and a driver 1. The base part has a lower part 16 and an upper part 12. The lower part can be moved toward and away from the upper part (see Figs. 3-8). The lower part 16 is a first elastic element which urges the parts away from each other in an initial position. The upper part has a surface for the work piece to be stapled as shown in the figures. Upper part bending devices 4 are arranged pivotably about individual pins 5. The bending devices 4 and latches 14 provide a blocking arrangement such that the upper part is blocked from being moved in a downward direction. Releasing legs 7' disengage the blocking arrangement by interacting with releasing devices 8 on the bending devices. Note that since the releasing legs 7' move with the stapling unit, they are deemed to be on the unit. The bending devices have a first contact point in contact with second contact points on the lower part and each of the points is located below the pivoting center as shown in the figures. Elastic element 16 (the lower part) urges the bending devices in their initial position. The latches 14 also prevent the bending devices from pivoting in a direction opposite to the bending direction.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Leschhorn, Peterson, Borjesson, Sinisi, Manabe, Yoshie, Olesen, and Polzer are cited to show related inventions.
